TERRY W. WARREN Speaker, Executive Coach, Artist & Author

Terry W. Warren is an internationally recognized speaker, executive coach, author, and artist based in Nashville Tennessee. Terry brings over 40 years of leadership experience and relationships building that has guided his success across the United States and globally, including his time residing in Australia.

He has amassed a treasure trove of relatable stories, elevating each topic into practical and actionable visions for success. He shares keen insights for leaders at the highest level, relying on his successes as a CEO, COO, Client Engagement Executive, and sales leader. He also draws on solid executive coaching and his synergy with leaders that span industries, C-Suite executives, and emerging leaders. From industry leaders to MBA students, Terry encourages better habits for future leadership success at the highest level!

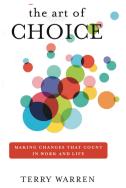

He holds a certification from the International Coach Federation and a Master of Science Degree from the Georgia Institute of Technology and is the founder and CEO of Warren Executive Coach. Terry has studied under Master artists and has become a recognized American realism artist. His original artwork sells in shows across the country. Terry has tied both his love for coaching and art into his published work, The Art of Choice. Intentionality in his art brings the viewer to see themselves in the scene...a place they have been or where they want to go.

Terry brings the same visual depth to his audiences -- painting a picture that reminds the listener of where they have been, challenging contemplation for where they are going, and giving visionary expertise for how to get there.
